Ecumenical Fellowship of Indian churches in Philadelphia Christmas celebration
New Release

Philadelphia, PA -The Ecumenical Fellowship of Indian Church in Pennsylvania will celebrate its 30th annual Christmas celebrations to be held at the George Washington High School, 10175 Bustleton Ave, Philadelphia, PA 19116 at 3:00 PM on Saturday December 10, 2016.

His Grace Zachariah Mar Nicholovos will inaugurate the function. The traditional procession with chenda mela will start at 3 PM. This year there will be slight a change in the schedule. This year cultural program will start at 3:30 PM sharp.

Here are the highlights of this year celebration.

Variety program includes skits, dance, band tableau and songs from our member churches . Famous ecumenical choir with 50 plus members will be performing. Nupura and Matha dance academy and Anugraha musing academy members will also be performing. Slid show from all ecumenical events will be shown. We honoring our outgoing priests at the public function. 2016 souvenir will be distributed at the venue.

St Thomas Indian orthodox church snack sale will be on the premises. This year public session will be shortened and will take place in between cultural programs. We are expecting the presence of senior city official at this event, which will then be presented with checks towards charity donation for three homeless assisting agency in Philadelphia.

Sincerely,

Mathew Samuel
EFICP Secretary
